The Latter became dominant in the Netherlands, where they maintained their religious liberties only after a long, costly and bloody struggle against the gigantic power of Philip 11., during which they suffered all that men could suffer. So calamitous was their condition before the eighty years war, that they gave themselves the name of the Church under the Cross, and their symbol was A Lily amidst Thorns. In 1566, while war was raging, the deputies of the churches met in Antwerp and adopted the Belgic Confession, which continues to this day to be one of the doctrinal standards of the Reformed in Holland. About the same time the Heidelberg Catechism. which had been issued (1563) in German by the Palatine Elector, Frederick III., was translated into Dutch and widely circulated in...
